Planting Our Future

We live in a world where 1.3 billion people live on less than $1 a day. As global citizens, we can become part of the solution to alleviate poverty and play an active role in helping communities become self-sufficient.

AKF USA cordially invites you to PartnershipDay 2008 in support of planting our future through innovative programs that create hope and opportunity for disadvantaged communities in the developing world without regard to race, religion or origin.

In 1989, diarrhea was the #1 killer of children under five globally. AKF pioneered an affordable treatment for this; by 2000, diarrhea-related deaths declined by half, preventing more than 1 million deaths every year.

Experience first-hand the challenges of life in developing countries at the visually engaging and interactive Village in Action.

Keynote Speaker: Mayor Tony Petelos (City of Hoover)
